The staff members and students of TEC identify the importance of general hygiene surroundings of the campus. In this context, Tirumala Engineering College organized De Plastic Day and Swaccha Bharath in TEC Campus with staff and students. The NSS volunteers are actively participated in the program with commitment and dedication. They have cleaned different areas in the campus, internal roads in the campus. During this program, the non teaching staff members also participated. Keeping the surroundings clean and hygiene is essential for survival in the time of pandemic and we have organized the swaccha Bharath program with staff members and students

Plastic waste, or plastic pollution, is ‘the accumulation of plastic objects (e.g.: plastic bottles and much more) in the Earth’s environment that adversely affects environment and humans. It also refers to the significant amount of plastic that isn’t recycled and ends up in landfill or, in the developing world, thrown into unregulated dump sites..
